Dear Mr. Weisberg,

By now you should have received an order from the bookstore here for Whitewash and Post Mortem. Despite the cost of the special edition of Whitewash you had printed last year, I have had students in my criminology course buy them and ~~none~~ no student has sold it back to the bookstore, indicating to me that it is a book they want to hold on to. In January I will again be conducting that special one-month course focusing specifically on the JFK assassination. Perhaps the most significant addition to this course will be some of the photographic evidence which I was able to obtain through Dave Hawkins ("The Collector's Archive") in Canada.

Recently, I read a fairly new book on the assassination which you may have also read. The book is Crime of the Century by an historian by the name of Michael Kurtz. It appears to me that he does you a great disservice by not mentioning your work in getting many of the suppressed documents released under the Freedom of Information Act. Also, I thought it curious that in his account of the evolution of the "single-bullet theory" he makes no mention of James Tague. In fact, James Tague is never mentioned. It seems Mr. Tague has gone down the "memory hole", along with some other key witnesses and pieces of evidence.

I am sorry that I ~~was~~ did not write to you more often ~~of~~ over the spring and summer. I saw Wrone this summer and he mentioned that you had asked about me. Also, I have not had the time to pursue the matter of researching the Richard Russell archive which was established at the University of Georgia. I will be coming up for tenure next year, and I have decided to put most of my effort into publishing in the field of sociology. I may still be able to convince a student to do that research some time in the future.

I hope you are well and you and your family have a joyous holiday season.

Sincerely,
Gerald Ginocchio
